Dear Maggie:

The attached Administrative Instruction has now been cleared by O/PC and O/SO. I would call your attention specifically to the change in paragraph I which excludes O/PC and states the O/SO case in different language. I would point out in this regard that the merit of this language is that it brings O/SO a bit more into the family, though it does not do that completely. Perhaps we can be satisfied with this as a step in the direction we would like to go.

I would also like to call your attention to paragraph J in which with respect to the variety of exceptions (1) through (9) there is a wide variety of language such as "control all liaison," "control liaison," "will establish and maintain necessary liaison," "will establish and control all liaison," "will determine and supervise all liaison." My point is that if the meaning is the same for all of these then perhaps the same language can be used. If it is intended that each is different are we clear in what respects they are different.
